

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Houston, TX - May 1, 2024—Project Row Houses is excited to announce the appointment of Danielle Burns Wilson as its new Executive Director, effective immediately. Wilson's distinguished background in community development and deep passion for art make her an excellent fit for this role.

As the Executive Director, Wilson will lead Project Row Houses in its mission to empower communities through art, culture, and historic preservation. Her strategic vision and commitment to equity will drive the organization forward, continuing to catalyze positive change in Houston's Third Ward and beyond, inspiring hope and fostering a sense of community.

"Danielle's dedication to the art community and championing Third Ward align perfectly with Project Row Houses' values," said Phillip Pyle, II, President of the Board of Directors. We are confident that under her leadership, Project Row Houses will continue to thrive as a beacon of creativity."

Wilson brings over a decade of experience in management and art curation, most recently serving as the Art Director at Project Row Houses. She holds a Master of Arts from City University New York (CUNY). She has curated many several exhibitions, including the recent Founders Round at PRH, which included the organization's seven founders.

"Project Row Houses has been a touchstone for me throughout my career," said Wilson. "I cannot express how honored I am by the Board's belief in my leadership, and how humbling it is to step into a leadership role of an organization that is respected and beloved by artists and audiences around the world and right here on Holman Street. I cannot wait to continue working with the phenomenal team we've built and hope my work honors our founders and their vision for this special place."

Please join us in welcoming Danielle Burns Wilson as the new Executive Director of Project Row Houses.

About Project Row Houses:

Project Row Houses is a community-based arts and culture organization in Houston's historic Third Ward. Since its founding in 1993, Project Row Houses has been dedicated to preserving the rich history and culture of the neighborhood while empowering residents through art, education, and social programs. Through a combination of artist residencies, public art installations, and community outreach, Project Row Houses seeks to address pressing social issues and inspire positive change.
